Roy has over 25 years experience as a Commercial Photographer in the Graphic Design and Advertising Industry. Roy has mastered the ability to translate client briefs into meaningful imagery, bringing their visions to life with professional, polished images and related creative input.

With on-site, off-site capabilities, and an understanding and commitment to capture, and perfect, the small as well as significant details, Roy delivers photographic solutions with reliability, integrity and precision.

Roy's portfolio includes but is not limited to: landscapes, people, activity scenes, company offices, buildings and an extensive range of product shots.

Oh...and he also plays classical guitar...

“A great image makes the viewer feel,
think and wonder...”

When you were a kid, what did you want to be?

Gee, that's a curly one! What did I want to be... actually I do remember when I was a kid saying something like, an Electrical Engineer...probably because I liked to open up things like radios to see if I could understand how they worked.

What's your favourite band or musician and song?

I wouldn't be alone in suggesting the man who changed rock music forever, Jimi Hendrix. I first heard him when I was 10 and I still find it astonishing that someone could explore sounds with a guitar and take you on such a journey playing music.

Who would you love to meet and why?

I would have liked to have met my Dad's father – he was apparently an entrepreneur with some amazing insights into life and business and I imagine he would have inspired me to be more devoted to learning in all my creative endeavours.

What inspires you?

Most definitely seeing, hearing, reading and experiencing the work of creative people. All our lives are so demanding of our time, we need good influences to make our art.

Who do you barrack for?

The Brunswick Zebras... No... Richmond Tigers and the 'Underdog'.

What's your favourite food?

Roast Lamb with a good wine.

What is a typical Sunday for you?

Rest. Then play.

If you could photograph anything – where, what or who would it be?

Okay, I have thought about this for a minute... I would like to be the photographer on the next interplanetary exploration.
